NCC Activity Report

2020-2021

St. Wilfred's PG College, Jaipur

NCC

Faculty Coordinator

Ms. Shipra Sharma

1. Introduction:

In response to changing circumstances and the need to adapt to virtual environments, the National Cadet Corps (NCC) initiated a series of online activities during the period of 2019-2020. This report outlines the objectives, types of activities, participant engagement, and lessons learned from these online endeavors.

2. Objectives: The objectives of the online activities were:

- To ensure continuity of engagement and learning among NCC cadets during challenging times.
- To leverage digital platforms for skill development, knowledge enhancement, and fostering camaraderie.
- To promote adaptability and technological literacy among cadets.

3. Types of Online Activities: Several types of online activities were organized:

- Webinars and Workshops: Interactive online sessions covering various subjects, including leadership, communication skills, cyber awareness, and health and fitness.
- Virtual Competitions: Competitions such as debates, essay writing, art contests, and quizzes conducted via online platforms.
- Online Campaigns: Initiatives like social media campaigns for community service, environmental awareness, and mental health advocacy.

- Virtual Drill Practice: Cadets engaged in drill practice sessions conducted through video conferencing tools.

4. Participant Engagement:

Engagement in online activities was measured through:

- Participation numbers: Over X cadets participated in webinars, workshops, and competitions.
- Feedback and Interaction: Active participation through Q&A sessions, discussions, and sharing of ideas during online sessions.
- Submissions: Numerous submissions for virtual competitions, campaigns, and creative endeavors.

5. Lessons Learned:

The online activities provided valuable insights, including:

- Digital Skills: Cadets enhanced their familiarity with virtual platforms, communication tools, and online collaboration.
- Adaptability: The ability to adapt to virtual environments and continue engagement during challenging times was demonstrated.
- Reach: Online activities enabled engagement with cadets across wider geographical areas, transcending physical boundaries.

6. Challenges and Solutions:

Challenges faced during online activities included internet connectivity issues, platform familiarity, and maintaining attention during virtual sessions. Solutions included providing pre-event tech guidance, scheduling interactive segments, and encouraging active participation.

7. Cadet Participation:

NCC cadets actively participated in online activities as both participants and organizers. Their enthusiasm, adaptability, and creativity contributed to the success of these endeavors.

8. Future Plans:

Building on the success of the online activities, the NCC plans to:

- Incorporate online components even when in-person activities resume to enhance accessibility and learning.
- Collaborate with experts and professionals for specialized webinars and workshops.
- Continuously evaluate and evolve the online activity format based on participant feedback.

9. Visual Documentation:

Screenshots, photos, and videos capturing moments from webinars, virtual competitions, and online campaigns, showcasing cadet engagement and active participation.
