The purpose of a mock interview is to provide candidates with an opportunity to practice their interview skills, receive constructive feedback, and improve their overall performance. During a mock interview, the candidate typically engages in a structured interview process with a mock interviewer who may be a career counselor, an HR professional, or an experienced individual familiar with the job application process. The interview is conducted in a manner similar to an actual job interview, with questions covering various aspects of the candidate's qualifications, experience, skills, and personal attributes.

Event Summary	Campus interviews were a great opportunity for students to showcase their skills and secure internships. In the past, many companies would come to college campuses to conduct interviews for internships and entry-level positions. These interviews were highly competitive, and students would often spend a lot of time preparing for them. During the interviews, students would have to present their resumes and answer questions about their skills and experience. The companies would evaluate the students based on their communication skills, problem-solving abilities, and overall fit for the organization. Despite this shift, students can still find opportunities through online job portals, networking events, and social media platforms.
